reetings:

And another amazing tour in May because I planned it! HaHa. On the serious side, the tour was enjoyable and very informative, although it cost me money because Daisy always has to buy items when we go to Whitehouse Farms in Canfield! We left Whitehouse and had a scenic run to the Birds in Flight Sanctuary. Heather Merritt gave us a great talk on the scope of what the rescue and rehab center is all about. If you are looking for a worthwhile place to donate, this is a great charity. After the talk, we got to see several permanent residents who cannot be released into the wild due to their injuries. We saw a bald eagle, a turkey vulture, and an owl. The sanctuary is not just birds but all wildlife with over 80 acres of forest, wetlands, etc. and they also have their own animal hospital. They just finished establishing a well constructed water area where loons can take off from the water and wetlands. There are plans for putting in walking trails so you can observe some of the wildlife.

After the talk, we had an enjoyable tour to Davidson's restaurant and enjoyed visiting with each other and eating great food. Thank you, Carole and Craig Bernard, for making the arrangements.

Glen and Marge Jugenheimer are planning a great tour and get together for June 21st. Leave it to Glen to make plans to go to the Butts Museum! Sounds like great fun! Details are listed below.

Hope to see you in June and hope the weather cooperates and gives us some good driving weather for our antiques. Cudos to Tom and Chuck for driving their antique vehicles.

Safe and happy motoring!

Dean
